The Ministry Still has a Majority in the Assembly.

PARIS July 7, 8 A M—The Right and Left Centres have agreed upon an order of the day declaring that the Assembly is determined to defend MacMahon's powers from every attack of their opponents. The Cabinet still has a majority of 30 in the Assembly, but the Bonapartists and a portion of the Extreme Right, who are able to turn the scale, are wavering If the Government is defeated the dissolution of the Assembly is inevitable.

MR. DAWES'S LETTER DECLINING A RENOMINATION

Several days ago a paragraph announcing that Hon. Henry L Dawes had declined a renomination, appeared in the OREGONIAN In an Eastern exchange we find the letter in full It is addressed to the electors of the Eleventh District of Massachusetts The eminence of the author makes it worthy of republication

I take the earliest opportunity after reaching home to announce to you a purpose long entertained of declining a renomination as your representative in Congress I cannot thus sever this relation which has existed between us for eighteen years, without an endeavor to express my deep gratitude for the confidence you have reposed in me during all that period never so strongly manifested as at and since the last election Subordinating all other considerations to the obligations I have been under to defend the faith and promote the interests of my constituents I nevertheless look back upon my shortcomings with mortification and regret I return however to you the commission with which you intrusted me unconscious that I leave any stain on the record which I have made upon it. It will hereafter be my first duty and highest pleasure to give to my successor that same earnest support in the maintenance of your political principles and material prosperity which has been at all times so generously extended to me With pride that I have been so long your representative, and grateful that I can retire with your good opinion I am your fellow citizen

WHY WAS IT ALL RIGHT?—Congressman Sloss, of Alabama has appeared in a new role. Reaching home on Friday last, he learned that one George F Long had been slandering his daughter Instead of remonstrating with him or calling him out, or instituting suit, Sloss settled the case by taking his gun and filling Long so full of buckshot that he is not long for this earth The most remarkable feature of the case is the satisfaction of both parties Sloss is satisfied because he has shot Long and Long, upon being informed that it was Sloss who had shot him, remarked "That's all right." This would seem to indicate either that Long was gratified because Sloss was even with him, or that it was soothing to his pride to be assured that he was shot by a Congressman—Chicago Tribune

A FEMALE PHYSIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

A number of Brooklyn ladies have formed an organization for the suppression of corsets high heeled boots, false hair, and the numerous other contrivances of an artificial nature which are supposed to adorn female beauty and injure health A principal article of the Constitution is as follows

No person shall be eligible to office in this Society who wears corsets or who does not wear her clothes suspended from her shoulders, and who does not live hygienically

This Society of which Mrs Theodore L Cuyler is President was organized a short time since under the name of The Ladies' Physiological Society of Brooklyn Their constitution has not yet been published but it is expected that it will appear shortly It is understood that they will inaugurate a series of lectures for the promotion of the proper observance of the laws of health by women Among the ladies connected with the organization are Mrs Henry Churchill Mrs E S Taft Mrs Homer B Sprague Mrs Wm Farre and Mrs G L Hall—N Y [illegible]

A POLECAT FOR A PLAYMATE—A little four-year-old son of one of our citizens has had an experience with a pet that has not heretofore been domesticated A few days ago his father returned home and the little boy said he had a dog out in the box which he wished his father to see After considerable urging the father concluded he would go and see the pup There had been a dry goods box placed in the door yard bottom side up, and the little dog ran in and out at pleasure through a place where the box had been broken The father was surprised on approaching the box to see the child run up and take hold of—not a dog—but a large skunk the child had been petting and playing with for several hours His skunkship seemed to enjoy the sport as well as the boy and would allow itself to be fondled just like a kitten, without doing the mean things that some people's skunks do—Grand Junction (Iowa) Headlight

THE WORLD'S COFFEE CORNERED—The remarkable rise in the price of coffee, in the face of the abolition of the tariff on that article now turns out to have been the result of a vast speculative combination having its centre in Rotterdam Antwerp and Hamburg From these cities the most elaborate and ingenious calculations were circulated alleging short crop and increasing consumption Meanwhile the ring kept on buying and holding for high prices Late reports are to the effect that [illegible]000 bags are stored at Antwerp with more to arrive and that the yield everywhere this present year will be enormous Most of the speculators are already ruined having staked their entire capital on the risk—Boston [illegible]

THE NEXT CHANGE IN THE CABINET—It has been known for some time that desperate efforts are being made to secure the removal of Secretary Fish from the State Department He has stood too long between the President and the so-called friends of Cuban independence They are determined that he shall be put out of the way and it is stated as a positive fact that Gen Grant has promised to get rid of him very soon after his return from West Virginia The person from whom this news is derived says there is every reason for believing that Fish's resignation will be required within thirty days unless the President weakens in his purpose—Wash Spec June 2[illegible]

The Denver News [illegible] refuses to accept the appointment of E M McCook as Governor of Colorado as a vindication of the charges against him but calls it a victory for the carpet-bag element of the State Concerning the effect upon the party in the Territory it says The President may have won a victory in the Senate but has lost Colorado to the Administration and the Republican party This contest has now ended at Washington it has just begun in Colorado The great result of this confirmation will be the election of an anti-Administration delegate in September next by an overwhelming majority

CELEBRATION AT HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG July 7th 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The 98th anniversary of American Independence was celebrated by the citizens of this city and vicinity in a creditable manner All business houses except one were closed from 11 A M until 5 P M and thus our little city bore a festive appearance The streets were crowded with vehicles which came in from all directions The procession formed at 10 o'clock A M and when completed was fully one mile in length Much credit is due the President and other officers of the day for the able manner in which they conducted the various ceremonies and exercises The Junction City and Harrisburg Bands with Prof [illegible] Everett as leader acquitted themselves splendidly The reading of the Declaration of Independence by [illegible] Bolon was indeed well done And last but not least of all the Oration delivered by Hon Geo R Helm was the climax of the day and will long be impressed on the minds of those who had the pleasure of listening to it The Oration was beautifully arranged, and delivered in the able manner characteristic of Mr Helm Following are his closing remarks

In conclusion, we now look around us and behold the proportions of our own beautiful State Proud prosperous advancing Oregon! with her mountain ranges and peaks that rise in gorgeous grandeur as if to prop the skies! while beneath is her outstretched valleys valley farms with growing crops waving in homage to him who cultivates the soil and almost inviting the reaper to the harvest.

In territorial expansion we exceed that of Illinois Ohio Missouri Arkansas or half of Texas We have our great natural highways—the broad Columbia coursing one part of the State and the Willamette another one locked yet open the other unlocked yet both uniting, mingling their waters together and thus going to the sea

These are the avenues of trade and transportation of commerce Besides these are our railway facilities adding much to the development enlargement and importance of the State, each contributing to the other Upon our Western coast are our bays and harbors—the Coos and the Yaquina bays; and the entrance at the mouth of the Columbia natural elements and marks of strength as affects our commercial oceanic relations Within our borders from the early days of the pioneers down to the present have been built and continuously built up the great interests of education morals and religion and we have built up institutions of law And to-day we can compare favorably with older States and in triumph challenge criticism

Proud, prosperous advancing Oregon! the day dream of my boyhood and the home of my manhood The highest homage that can be paid you to-day is, as we behold that field of representative stars to single you out as shining as brilliantly as any of the lovely constellation of States! And when twilight let her curtain down she will pin it with this star

Spread our young country's banner wide
The emblem of the brave and free
The brightest crown of shining gold
That decks the Goddess Liberty

Forever float that standard sheet
Where breathes the foe but falls before it
With freedom's soil beneath our feet
And freedom's banner streaming o'er it.

There were about 2,000 persons in attendance and as far as heard from everybody was satisfied Respectfully &c M A [illegible]

THE FOURTH AT STEILACOOM, ETC.

A gentleman residing at Tacoma sends us the following in relation to the Fourth at Steilacoom and other items of interest

The Tacoma people concluded to go abroad for their Fourth of July this year They did not have far to go to find it as it was laying loose all around them Steilacoom Chehalis and the Indian Reservation each offered easy access and strong inducements and each drew a portion though Steilacoom attracted the largest number

The steamer North Pacific brought about 300 persons to Steilacoom from Olympia Gov Ferry delivered an excellent oration There was a grand ball in the evening commencing at 5 o'clock

Probably the most original celebration of the day was that which took place at the Indian Reservation about two miles from this place The Indians came from far and wide many of them coming from the Yakima reservation a distance of about 150 miles There were about 1,000 siwashes and about 200 white persons on the ground Many of the officers of the day and members of the various committees were Indians Chief Spot was the Grand Marshal and performed the duties of that important position with all the dignity and ability that the occasion required Dr Hemingway physician to the Agency delivered the oration and one of the employes interpreted it to the Indians Plenty of muck a muck was provided and everything passed off pleasantly

Tacoma is very quiet at present though for the size of the place considerable building is being done The Headquarters building, which is to accommodate the business of the railroad Land Department, general freight and ticket offices &c is nearly completed and is a very handsome building It will be ready for occupancy some time this month

The mail contract between Olympia and Victoria has not been awarded yet J M Starr's bid of $26,000 per annum was the only bid received and it has been held in abeyance for what reason is not known to outsiders The Starr Brothers still continue to carry the mail under the old contract

A MILLINER PRINCESS—The Pall Mall Gazette, of June 12 says: Vice Chancellor Malins had before him yesterday the case of Turner vs. Bonaparte in which a motion was made for an injunction to restrain Prince Pierre Napoleon Bonaparte and Princess [illegible] his wife from removing certain pictures which had been deposited with [illegible] as security for [illegible] due from the Princess to the plaintiff Mrs. Turner It was alleged by the plaintiff's bill that in December 18[illegible] the Princess agreed to purchase from the plaintiff a millinery business in Baker street by paying £[illegible] for the goodwill and £1,250 for the stock in trade that the plaintiff had received no part of the purchase money although the Princess had entered into possession and carried on the business and that recently the plaintiff found that the Princess had contracted to sell the stock in trade at a large profit The defendants' counsel said the Prince had not been served with notice [illegible] and the Prince required time to answer them The Vice Chancellor granted an interim order as against the Prince upon service of notice of motion and as against the Princess upon ex parte application restraining the removal of the pictures for a fortnight

[illegible] BY A POTATO BUG—Mr A W Shelton came into the office the other day with one side of his face badly swollen and one eye greatly inflamed caused, he says by the [illegible] He was "bugging" his potatoes [illegible] crawling upon the handle of the instrument he struck it with a piece of lath which he carried in his hand and some of the juice struck him in the face near his eye [illegible] painful swelling and inflammation Two physicians were attending him and they pronounced the bug much more powerful and dangerous than Spanish flies—[illegible] Herald

CHINCH BUGS IN ILLINOIS—Farmers in Morgan and adjoining counties are greatly alarmed at the vast number of chinch bugs which have appeared among the corn and spring wheat Some fields of the latter have been entirely ruined and the corn in many cases is black with them The self-raking reaping machines in cutting winter wheat rake up bushels of bugs This wheat is entirely harvested and the bugs cannot hurt it but they are going to adjoining fields A heavy rain would wash them away considerably and there is a good prospect of that soon

WHO ARE SUCCESSFUL LECTURERS

The most successful are mainly of the trial stars—men like Booth, Jefferson, Sothern etc. women like Mrs Cushman, Miss Bateman, Maggie Mitchell etc. [illegible] upward of two thousand a week as large pay As to lecturers there is not one in the field that I ever heard of who reached one half that average per week during a season There is only one who has approached it—Gough, the best paid lecturer living No woman lecturer—all stories to the contrary notwithstanding—ever touched this figure, except as in occasional and exceptional things. I have it is true received as much as eight hundred dollars for a single lecture but then I have some times lectured for fifty dollars I have also lectured for nothing as I have acted for nothing and written articles for nothing, and yet when I say nothing I mean the least of all things—charity. All considerations of intellectual calibre apart lecturers are paid for the work precisely on the same basis that singers and players are viz. their power to attract the crowd For a first appearance therefore before any given audience, a lecturer must rely for his attractiveness on his fame and his fame must be of a literary character or he will not draw Setting aside badinage (and a very popular object of badinage is the lecture business) with writers who have no talent for it and no voice no vicious notoriety will draw a paying audience to hear a lecturer I know there is a quite prevalent belief to the contrary but it is entirely mistaken Those who have seen crowds drawn to the Academy of Music and Steinway Hall in New York by the announcement that a notorious freelover would lecture, may think me ill informed on the contrary I am correctly informed and I know that these crowds never were crowds that paid for their tickets In San Francisco a woman who achieved notoriety through a murder trial sought in vain to get a paying audience to hear her speak Many will remember what an ignominious failure to draw an audience John Allen made when he ventured into the lecture field in the midst of his newly acquired notoriety as the wickedest man in New York There was never a purer fallacy than the idea that mere notoriety will lead people to go to hear [illegible]—[illegible] in the Galaxy for July

VOLTAIRE AND RICHELIEU

Richelieu had been appointed by the French Academy to compliment the King upon the peace of 1745 but being exceedingly occupied with other affairs he wrote to Voltaire asking him to write a complimentary speech for him Voltaire wrote it on the spot and sent it up to Mme. du Chatelet for her opinion It was in the evening and the Marquise was going to the opera with the Marquise de Boufflers who usually went with her While she was completing her toilette she gave the document to the Marquise de Boufflers to read The latter was so delighted with it that she hurried to make a copy of it as if she made no objection to her so doing The following day the Marquise de Boufflers showed it to several of her friends and more duplicates were made while Richelieu supposed nobody knew a word of it The very day when he entered the palace to make his discourse before the King he heard the courtiers about him reciting it As surprised as outraged he believed that Voltaire had abused his confidence in order to convey the idea that he, the Duke was incapable of writing a complimentary speech to the King. As a sort of compensation it had been arranged that after delivering the speech he should present to the monarch a copy of Voltaire's panegyric of Louis XV Voltaire had published it in French Spanish English Italian and Latin it was beautifully bound in blue morocco bore on the covers the royal arms and was as magnificent as could be in gold and lace The piqued Duke made use neither of the discourse nor panegyric Voltaire supposing that the affair had passed off admirably distributed other volumes to his friends like that accepted by the King when to his surprise the books were returned by Richelieu, who simply wrote that he had not wished to use them Under these circumstances each felt himself compromised by the other Voltaire in his rage ran to a picture representing a sort of apotheosis of Richelieu which was hanging in his room tore it from its frame trampled it under his feet and then threw it in the fire, regarding it as an homage to a man no longer worthy of it Some days after the two met by chance in the house of a mutual friend when they entered into explanations and learned that it all resulted from indiscretion on the part of the "divine Emilie"—The Galaxy for July

A LION HUNT ON A STEAMSHIP—FOUR LIONS SHOT FROM THE DECK

[From the Pall Mall Gazette.]

Lion hunting on board a steamship is certainly a novelty yet the passengers and crew of the Euphrates and Tigris Steam Navigation Company's vessel City of London seem to have had a most exciting and successful hunt on the 11th of March last

From the account given by a correspondent of the Times of India it appears that on the morning of that day when at the Junction of the two rivers Euphrates and Tigris where the rivers had overflowed the embankments three full-grown lions were seen walking along the shore in the water about a mile ahead of the steamer On nearing, the boats one was shot dead while trying to swim toward the ship The launch was manned to pick up the carcass, and the steamer pursued the two others who turned round to charge the vessel

After many shots had been fired at them, one was struck dead by the commander and the other was shortly after despatched by a bullet from a Snider The steamer then approached the bank and the dead lions or rather the lionesses, for such they proved to be were taken on board About ten minutes later a large male lion was observed crouching down on a small tract of ground surrounded with water and wagging his tail perhaps as a sign of distress On being fired at he gave a tremendous roar and with his mane standing on end advanced to charge the ship when a treble volley laid him low He too was carried on board when thoroughly dead and his dimensions were as follows Length from head to end of tail 9 feet 6 inches, length of body 6 feet 7 inches height three feet 9½ inches weight 420 pounds The like of this incident it is stated had never occurred before in that part of Mesopotamia.

A BRAVE WIDOW

The Lexington Register relates the following instance of a terrible and swift retribution

A widow lady residing in Anderson county had for some time been expecting money from Washington on an army claim she had against the Government and one day last week she received the money about $600 That night she was visited at a very late hour by several men disguised as negroes who with drawn pistols and threats of death demanded the money Mrs —— was compelled to yield but begged the robbers to leave her $125 to pay her nephew from whom she had borrowed that amount some time previous and whom she had promised to pay when her army money came The robbers at first refused but were finally induced to yield to Mrs ——'s appeals and agreed to give her back $125 if she would get them something to eat Mrs —— went about preparing supper and seasoned it heavily with poison she happened to have about the house. The thieves ate heartily, and two of them were found dead on the premises the next (Friday) morning, and Mrs —— was horrified at identifying one of them as her nephew from whom she had borrowed the $125 We have not as yet been able to ascertain any particulars and give this as it was told to Mr Hastings

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

[Special Dispatches to the Chicago Tribune.]

FORT WAYNE Ind June 29—A terrible accident occurred at a small village southwest of here last night during the heavy lightning and rain storm A young lady daughter of the Rev Mr Devine was conversing with a caller when the lightning struck the house and jumping to her struck her on the hip blackening the flesh and burning her clothing She lived but ten minutes The young man who was visiting there was so severely stunned as to render his life in peril He is conscious but perfectly deaf The rest of the family were considerably stunned but were not seriously hurt Strange to say the building was entirely unharmed

CARLINVILLE Ill June 29—During the storm last night Miss Susan Elder a young lady living with her father a few miles south of this city was struck by lightning and instantly killed A child which she was holding in her arms at the time she was struck was unharmed

FATHER AND SON DROWNED—From the Chicago Tribune of June 29th we take the following: A very sad event occurred in Burlington Iowa Saturday evening An elderly man named Conrad Herbert and his son Henry went to the river to bathe The father got into very deep water and being unable to swim soon began to sink He called to his son for help and the young man immediately plunged in but the father caught his son by the leg and drew him down and both were drowned They were both well known citizens and their sudden loss has created much feeling

THE NEW DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA COMMISSION—Mr Dennison will be President of the Commission being the first on the ground He called upon the Secretary of the Treasury this morning and consulted with that officer about the payment of the interest on the $4,000,000 loan, which falls due on the 1st of July As a large part of this is payable to European bond holders it is very necessary that the Commissioners organize promptly, in order to save the financial credit of the District—Wash Spectator, June 29th

THURSDAY MORNING JULY 9 1874

AMENDMENT TO THE BANKRUPT LAW

The Bankrupt law has been amended in some important particulars. We have not seen the text of the amended bill but glean from the [illegible] papers the main features of the amendments.

It is provided that the Court may on sufficient cause shown and with the consent of a majority in value of the creditors [illegible] upon notice and hearing, direct the assignee or receiver to proceed to carry on the business of the bankrupt for a period not exceeding nine months if such a course is deemed for the interest of the creditors.

The provision requiring the assets to equal 50 per cent of the debts before a bankrupt can be discharged is repealed, and it is enacted instead thereof that in involuntary bankruptcy the bankrupt may be discharged in the absence of other grounds of objection without regard to the amount of assets or the consent of his creditors. In voluntary bankruptcy the assets must equal 30 per cent or the assent of one-third in number and value of the creditors must be obtained to authorize the granting of a discharge.

The periods of [illegible] and six months mentioned in the [illegible] 9th sections are changed to two and four months respectively.

Instead of [illegible] an adjudication on petition of creditors against merchants, traders &c, for suspension of payment of their paper for fourteen days, forty days are allowed. And in all cases of involuntary bankruptcy an adjudication cannot be had unless one fourth in number and one-third in value of the creditors join in the petition, and in case it appear from the answer that the requisite number have not joined the Court shall grant a reasonable time not exceeding twenty days in cases commenced before the passage of the act and not exceeding ten days in cases commenced afterward for the petitioners to secure the requisite proportion of creditors to unite with them. Petitions of creditors shall be verified by all who will join in the petition except that when there are more than five of them five shall be sufficient to verify. Attorneys may verify for their clients in the same case as under the original law. For the purposes of a petition of creditors no creditor whose claim does not exceed $250 is to be counted unless that of each of the petitioners is also less than $250.

Compositions may be made with the creditors pursuant to a vote of a majority in number and three fourths in value of the creditors, with regard to the proceedings in bankruptcy, subject however, to be set aside by the court for sufficient cause.

The fees of officers are reduced 50 per cent until the Supreme Court shall establish permanent rates of charges.

The District Courts of the Territories are invested with the same jurisdiction in bankruptcy as the District Courts of the United States.

Some provisions are also made to prevent the hardships sometimes worked by the old law upon creditors who, in using diligence to collect their demands got themselves involved in the meshes of the bankruptcy proceeding, but the exact nature of these provisions we have been unable to ascertain, except that where creditors were debarred under the old law from proving their debts on account of having taken or sought a preference, they are now allowed to prove for one half their debts. These are the principal changes of the law, so far as we can collect them.

WHO FEARS THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS?

An effort was made in the Senate to establish a system of censorship over the press, but it failed ignominiously. A few Senators doubtless feeling that their chances of continuation in position must decrease in proportion to the increase of the influence of an independent non partisan press conceived the idea of suppressing free discussion by placing such restrictions upon the press of the country as would bring the newspapers on their knees at the feet of the politicians. Eastern papers are paying them for their services handsomely. When the press of the United States shall be placed under legal censorship the end of civil liberty in this country will be nigh.

No one can deny that reckless journalism is a monstrous evil. It is possible for a newspaper to inflict an injury which no power is competent to redress. Reputation, that which most high minded persons prize above all price may be attacked through the press and a single line may blast the hopes and prospects of a lifetime. For this reason, if for no other those who engage in journalism cannot have too high an appreciation of the responsibility of their calling. They cannot be too careful to know the truth of what they may say touching the character of others. And they cannot be held to an accountability too rigid for the publication of false defamatory statements the falsity of which is known to them or might be known upon reasonably inquiry. But reputation should be based on a real character and any man who enjoys a reputation for virtue and uprightness while living a life of vice and dishonesty is a dangerous cheat and should be exposed. It is as high and important a duty of the journalist to tear off the mask the scoundrels wear, as to abstain from striking down reputations won by honest lives and it requires much greater courage to perform it. Nothing is more unwelcome to a generous nature than the necessity of unveiling to the gaze of the world in his true character a great sinner whom the world has been accustomed to worship as a great saint. There is no other task which a conscientious man approaches with so much aversion and none in which he is more likely to [illegible] before he has done his whole duty. [illegible] feeling of pity for the person he must [illegible] conspires with that natural wish in every man's bosom to avoid embroiling himself with his fellow men to urge silence upon him when he ought to speak. The editor of a newspaper hears hundreds of things about public men and enemies, too, which he has great reason to believe are true, but which he [illegible] from men[illegible]ly from a sense of the injustice he would do by speaking out, if his information should prove incorrect. In the unprecedented number of attacks upon the characters of public men by the press during the last two years there have not been one tenth as many blows struck unjustly as have been withheld when they ought to have been struck. Let any candid man who has kept track of events look over the list of prominent men who have lately been driven out of sight by the newspapers and say how many of them [illegible] which of them have suffered unjustly. No man has fallen until the facts were clearly proved. The intelligence and candor of the American people will permit no man to be slain with slander. It is they who [illegible] their guilt by silence and they who upon investigation are found guilty who persist obstinately in their crimes. Every page of the hideous chapter from Credit Mobilier down to the scandalous frauds in the District of Columbia begins with a newspaper accusation, proceeds through an official investigation to a verdict of Guilty as charged in the Newspapers and ends with the judgment of the whole country that the accused be held in disgrace henceforth. Where is the exception? The truth is this era of newspaper disclosures and official investigations and convictions is a wholesome one for society at large if it is not for the politicians. The newspapers have done free institutions such service in the short time since they shook off the party fetter as they could not have done in an age with their old trammels on them. Honest men need have no more dread of a free press than of free speech and free courts of justice.

POLYGAMY AND NATURALIZATION

Another step is taken in the right direction and another trouble besets the Latter Day Saints. It is decided by Judge Boreman, of the Second Judicial District of Utah, that persons practicing polygamy are not entitled to receive naturalization papers. The grounds of this decision are not stated in the telegraphic report but a reference to the naturalization laws will enable one to see that there are strong if not conclusive reasons for refusing to grant citizenship to the class of persons excluded by Judge Boreman. The law requires something more of an alien who desires to become a citizen of the United States than that he renounce all allegiance to his former government and connect himself with ours. It requires among other things that he shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he is attached to the principles of our Government and institutions and well disposed to the peace and good order of our community. Does a practical polygamist fill this bill? Not only is polygamy contrary to the generally received ideas of society in this country, but it is irreconcilably at variance with the fundamental principles of American civilization. The United States is a Christian country, however unchristian may be the practices of some of its citizens. The civilization which its people are developing is essentially a Christian civilization and its Government and institutions are framed and fashioned upon the ideas that have long prevailed throughout the Christian world. Among these ideas and principles none is more clearly defined than that which discountenances a plurality of wives. The harem is Mohammedan not Christian, Asiatic not American. So, a man who practices polygamy cannot be said to be attached to the principles of our Government and institutions howsoever strongly he may favor Republican forms of Government in general. Nor can it be said that a person who is living in open and pronounced violation of the law of the country no matter under what religious guise is well disposed to the peace and good order of the community. The violation of law can never be favorable to good order. Polygamy is a crime. It is an offense against the moral sense of the people of this nation and a crime against the statutes of the United States and of every State and of every Territory, Utah alone excepted. A practical polygamist can not be a law-abiding man and therefore can not be an orderly citizen.

This decision of Judge Boreman if adhered to will prove a very important [illegible]. It is well known that the Mormon community is vastly increased in numbers every year by immigration from abroad. The missionaries of the Church are constantly in the field in Europe working among the ignorant and credulous classes to secure proselytes and forward them to Utah. It is from this source that a very large proportion of the population of the Territory has come. These make good Mormons but very poor citizens. They are the ready instruments in the hands of the unscrupulous priesthood of the Church. To refuse them the rights of citizenship will render them less potent for evil. It will likewise have a tendency to prevent or at least diminish the importation of that vicious class.

But will the decision be [illegible]? That is a doubtful question. There is an absurd and sickly sentimentalism abroad in this country that hesitates about the punishment of any crime committed in the name of religion [illegible] to have an idea the right to worship God according to the dictates of one's own conscience—which right by the way is not secured by the Constitution of the United States as people generally suppose it is—implies the right to violate the law and commit positive crimes if only it is done under the pretension of [illegible] religious institution. How far this sort of silly sentiment may go to forestall any wholesome opinion on the subject of Mormon concubinage no one can tell. It [illegible] the hand of the Government [illegible] and until the [illegible] strong enough to [illegible] the law [illegible] it will now be sufficient to [illegible] ment of the Courts [illegible]

Reports of the proceedings of [illegible] Indians on the Kansas border are [illegible] character as to excite considerable alarm. It appears by no means improbable that [illegible] has been effected where[illegible] Indians from Texas to Nebraska have united to make common [illegible] the whites. The tribes [illegible] composed are all [illegible] considerable proportion of them have joined in the hostile movement the raiders already [illegible] but a trifle of what will [illegible] before they can possibly be subdued.

It appears from a comparison of the [illegible] appropriation bill passed by Congress for the fiscal year that the appropriations [illegible] $20,000,000 below those of last year. [illegible] are however quite a number of [illegible]

THE INDIAN TROUBLES

[illegible] FROM FT LAPWAI—[illegible]

FT LAPWAI I T June 29 1874

The situation that [illegible] in the [illegible] very great [illegible] and therefore all is serene. We are enjoying a [illegible] that is really refreshing. Matters and things in general at this Post are moving along calmly [illegible] of flowers at set of sun.

We have now but three officers here Capt Henry M Smith Commanding [illegible] 1st Lieutenant [illegible] Skelton [illegible] with [illegible] but [illegible] getting [illegible] Skinner our [illegible] surgeon [illegible] excellent physician he is too.

Last week the people at the Upper Indian agency three miles from this place were very much frightened by the Indians or more properly from the reports they had heard in regard to the Indians [illegible] posted in various places [illegible] Many rumors are afloat in regard to the Indian [illegible] everything will be quietly settled without anybody losing their [illegible] through [illegible] a large portion of the [illegible] of the Nez Perce tribe are bitter enemies of the present Agent.

Between this date and the [illegible] we are expecting Capt Perry with a Company of [illegible] here to accompany the Indian [illegible] the Camas grounds southeast from here to regulate matters and things in regard to Indian matters and when they return we will know what we shall know.

In my former communication to you I made a slight mistake in regard to the ordering of troops by Gen Davis and stated one company was to join him on the Spokane. Since that time I learn these are the facts: Two companies of [illegible] from Fort Walla Walla are to proceed to the Wallowa valley to protect the settlers in that vicinity and [illegible] company to come here (Capt Perry [illegible] Company) to accompany the Agent Mr Monteith to the Camas grounds as I before stated.

No particular news as yet from the scouting party that left this Post on the [illegible] for the Coeur d'Alene under command of Gen Davis. Will let you know as soon as heard from.

We are puckering up our mouths for a little sport here on the glorious Fourth in the way of horse races &c &c. Should any unprecedented fast time be made will inform you.

Weather [illegible] and many persons are improving the time in cutting [illegible] for the coming winter feed, and are also preparing for cutting timothy and oat hay. R

INDIAN CONTRACTS.—New York June 29.—The annual awarding of contracts for Indian annuity goods was concluded to-day by a Commission consisting of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs the Hon N J Turney [illegible] Smith of the Board of Indian Commissioners the Hon Walter A Smith Assistant Attorney General and Gen B R Cowen Assistant Secretary of the Interior Department. The price at which the awards were made are without exception lower than they were last year and the successful bidders are men of the highest standing and comprising some of the most extensive manufacturers and dealers in the country.

CITY.

MINISTERIAL VISITATION.--From the Corvallis Gazette we learn that Bishop Morris left home on Monday morning, June 29, to fill the appointments in Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories. He will be absent nearly six weeks, returning just in time to make preparations for the Convocation at ... for his longer absence at the General Convention. This visitation will take him to many points never yet reached by any of our Bishops, and to some where the services of our Church have never been heard. ... Idaho belongs to the jurisdiction of Bishop Tuttle, but is altogether out of his reach ... so far has only been visited by Bishop Morris and the Rev Mr Wells, of Walla Walla. It will not be long till that region ... lying between the Cascades and the Rocky Mountains will require the entire time and services of a Bishop of its own.

INSANE WOMAN.--A German lady whose name we have not been able to ascertain arrived in the city yesterday evening in custody of Sheriff Gray of Grant county. This unfortunate woman is a widow and the mother of four small children. In company with her husband, this lady crossed the plains the past season, and arrived at Canyon City a few weeks ago. Within 12 hours after arriving in that town the husband and father was taken suddenly ill and died. The entire care of providing for a family of small helpless children fell to the lot of the bereaved widow. Being very poor the condition in which she was thus suddenly placed so wrought upon the mind of the poor woman as to drive her completely insane and her removal to the Asylum became necessary.

"LEAF BY LEAF," ETC.--One by one the old pioneers of Oregon are called hence from their labors in this world. Wendell Proebstel, an old and highly esteemed resident of this county, living near the head of Swan Island, on the east side of the Wallamet, was stricken down with paralysis on the evening of July 4. One half of his body was rendered helpless and insensible by the stroke. Mr Proebstel lingered until Tuesday evening when he quietly breathed his last. There are few men in the county more generally and favorably known. He had the entire confidence of a large circle of friends. Thus passed away a good man and a most estimable citizen.

PICNIC--CAMPMEETING.--There will be a picnic near Gervais on the 15th July in the beautiful grove one quarter of a mile from town. Everybody is invited and a good time is expected. The Spiritualists of Oregon will hold a campmeeting on the same ground, commencing the 24th of July, and continue three days. Ample accommodations will be furnished on the ground and in town to board and lodge all who may come. A hack will be running at the depot on each train arrival to convey passengers and baggage to the campground. Mrs Ada Ballou and a number of other speakers and mediums will be in attendance.

APPOINTMENTS.--During the present month the following are the Missionary appointments of the Protestant Episcopal Church. July 5th, 5th Sunday after Trinity--Olympia, the Rev J R W Sellwood; Monroe, the Rev J E Hammond. July 12th--sixth Sunday after Trinity--Kalama, the Rev J R W Sellwood; Tacoma, the Rev P E Hyland. July 19th--seventh Sunday after Trinity--Olympia, the Rev J R W Sellwood; Tacoma, the Rev C E Bonnell. July 26th--eighth Sunday after Trinity--Kalama, the Rev J R W Sellwood; Tacoma, the Rev P E Hyland.

TO BE EXAMINED.--This morning the case of State vs. H L Palmer charged with grand larceny, will be called in Police Court for examination. Palmer was brought up on the steamer John L. Stephens in custody of officer McCoy. He was arrested by the Sheriff of Tulare county, California, several weeks ago, in obedience to a warrant telegraphed by Chief Lappeus.

WEATHER REPORT.--From the records of the U S Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, July 8, 1874.

	7 A M	2 P M	9 P M
Thermometer	61°	70	63
Wind, direction	Calm	N	N W
velocity		8	2
Weather	Fair	Clear	Clear
Rain			0.00

SOCIABLE.--A pleasant sociable was held in the basement of the Taylor street M E Church last evening. Tables were laden with edibles suitable to the season. As we write the "prints" are discussing the merits of a quantity of cake kindly sent to them by some thoughtful persons. They appreciate the unexpected treat and await an early return of a like occasion.

RETURNED.--From Mr J Pat Smith who returned on Tuesday from Walla Walla, we learn that he lost but twelve out of his large band of sheep while they were being driven from Kelton to his ranch in the Walla Walla valley, a distance of over 600 miles. The present season his clip of fine wools aggregates 14,500 pounds.

THANKS.--Mr T E Holmes, of Rose Farm, near Oregon City, has laid the OREGONIAN of fice under obligations for a magnificent tree of fine cherries. Blessed is he that remembereth the printer in the day of his prosperity, for his shadow shall never grow less and that shadow of his cherry tree ditto.

ORDERED PAID.--The County Clerk was instructed by the Board of Commissioners yesterday, to issue a warrant for $745 in favor of John Oderkirk, the contractor for the erection of a barn on the poor farm. The barn has been completed and duly accepted by the Board.

ARRIVED.--The steamer John L. Stephens arrived at this port about 11 o'clock on Tuesday evening. A large number of passengers came on the steamer; also 510 tons of general cargo.

WILL SAIL.--The steamer John L. Stephens will sail hence for San Francisco this (Thursday) afternoon at 7 o'clock.

A STOCK RAISER HUMBUGGED.--If you would like to see how, go to the Museum and see that nondescript calf dog goat.

PERSONAL.

Gen Joel Palmer of Dayton is in the city.

We had the pleasure of a call from Major J Robinson last evening.

We acknowledge a call from C H Hewitt, Esq., the gentlemanly agent for the News Letter and Mail Bag published in San Francisco. Mr Hewitt arrived on the John L. Stephens. He will make a canvass of Portland for the above mentioned publications and will probably visit some of the interior towns of the State and Washington Territory prior to his return.

Dr Scollay Parker, a well known physician of this city, who has resided here for the last three years, will take his departure this evening on the outgoing steamer for the East. Dr Parker will make his home in Chicago. For the last year the Doctor has been stationed at Sitka and during that period he acted as our correspondent and has written a number of excellent letters from that point, which have been published in these columns. Now that he is to depart from our State, our numerous readers will lose the pleasure of perusing some of his gentle and racy letters. During his sojourn here Dr Parker has made many warm friends who will join ourself in wishing him a safe journey and all manner of prosperity in the future.

AMUSEMENTS.

To-morrow evening Oro Fino Theatre will be reopened, on which occasion Madame ... Phelps and her talented Company will reappear. Mr W C Dudley, a young actor of considerable talent, arrived on the last steamer and will prove a valuable acquisition to the present troupe. The new theatre will be reopened with the production of the thrilling ... beautiful four act drama from the pen of Watts Phillips entitled "...". Mrs. Phelps will assume the role of ..., Mr Challoner and Mr Dudley that of ... The remainder of the cast will comprise the entire strength of the company.

RECAPITULATION.

Number pupils enrolled in	Harrison St School	[illegible]
	Central School	[illegible]
	North School	[illegible]
	High School	[illegible]
Whole number enrolled		[illegible]
Percentage of pupils promoted in	Grammar Dept	[illegible]
	Intermediate	[illegible]
	Primary	[illegible]

The last columns in the above table referring to the number examined and promoted may not at first appear sufficiently plain. It is therefore necessary to state that each grade is composed of two divisions, denominated class A and B. As the examinations are held semi annually, promotions are made every five months from the second division to the first, and from the first to the next higher grade. The same pupils then during the year are twice promoted if found qualified. As our course is ... to the pupils to perform the work of each grade energetic teachers will not find it difficult to promote a large proportion of their students to the grade above, especially if thorough work is done in each grade from the lowest to the highest. ... the importance of having the chain complete in all its parts. The examination in February being the first general one it was not expected that so great a result would be obtained as that ... of the trade ... This ... failure is ... however to the ... of a system that needs but time ... its beneficial results. In June 1874 twelve pupils were admitted to the High School from ... Central, ... in the following September two from the Harrison Street and eleven from the North School. ... were promoted by a Board of Examiners ... entitled to ... class. ... in the table ... others were admitted to higher ... from lower grades. The ... of ... examinations ... have been ... in order to ... time ... of performing the labor ... observation ... that time ... examinations ... teachers are thus brought together ... and show ... knowledge.

It is ... to ... taking up their classes to a high standard and to pupils to excel ... creates harmony and unity in the ... of coldness and selfishness. The questions prepared for the examination were written with care covering the whole ground traversed by the pupils. In ... answers were required to be written ...

each pupil relying on his own individual merits. Though the examination was thorough and conducted impartially it was not too rigid to exclude those pupils who had been diligent and faithful and taught by true teachers. An investigation of the two sections of the table representing the labor of each term will disclose the fact that more solid and efficient work has been performed during the last five months than the preceding term. Nothing is more evident from the showing than that a perfect system of school management is indispensable to the welfare of our Public Schools. The importance of examinations is to well establish ... confidence in favor of their utilization. Without the test to judge of the standing of pupils in their respective studies, the character and dignity of schools ... would be greatly diminished. Are our public schools of the importance ... The condition of our schools prior to the adoption of the plan under which they are now governed is clearly defined in the County School Superintendent's report for the year ending March 14th, 1874.

Pupils were often promoted without the necessary qualifications to enter the next higher grade. ... could not ... the progress of the schools and nullify the best efforts of teachers. It cannot be said that this practice has been abolished, and it is to be hoped that a better one has been established--a plan that will commend itself to teachers and merit the approbation of patrons. The prosperity of our schools during the past year has been of solid public interest. The impetus they have received from a uniform system of discipline and an energetic corps of teachers ... successive evidences of their ... usefulness and permanent organization. There is no reason why they should not rank with the best schools of our country. And with the growth and population of our city may they advance with equal prosperity and maintenance and still meet with public favor. The amount of capital invested for their maintenance attests the liberality of the citizens of Portland and their desire that our public institutions of learning will meet the approval of every friend of education.

The thanks of teachers are hereby tendered to Rev T L Eliot, Rev G H Atkinson and Prof A J Anderson for their able assistance in conducting the examinations.

LOVE IN A COTTAGE AFTER ALL.--It's only love in a cottage for poor Nellie Grant after all her White House magnificence. The President and Mrs Grant have received several letters from Mrs Sartoris. Mr Sartoris' only sister is a married lady, met him and his bride at Liverpool and accompanied them to London where Mrs Sartoris writes she enjoyed herself very much. Her stay however was brief in London, her husband and herself going almost immediately to the Sartoris' country seat where the bride and groom have been given a cottage on the estate. So they are finally settled in their own house, albeit a small one, called a cottage, and Mrs Sartoris writes that it is covered with roses.

FOR SALE.

VALUABLE FARM.

AT PRIVATE SALE ONE FARM OF 160 ACRES of ... land situated one-half mile above Walla Walla city. It is all under fence with good rail fence. About 100 acres are under cultivation with a good dwelling house and out houses. There are about 100 bearing fruit trees of the best varieties in the place. Also grapes and shrubbery in abundance. The place is well watered lying on both sides of Mill Creek and the whole can be irrigated if necessary. There is a plenty of timber on the place which is an item where wood sells at $8 per cord.

I will sell the above farm altogether or divide it to suit.

For further particulars inquire of the undersigned.

The course of the money market seems to be in the same channel as before noticed the principal tendency being to greater ease and toward a reduction of the rates of interest and discount when made on prime paper All seem to agree that even the legal rate of 1 per cent. on first class loans is high and when we add brokers commissions fees and other incidental expenses of securing accommodations the result is to retard necessary improvements and enterprises and check the growth and prosperity of the country Many contend that our usury laws are the producing of high interest in this State but we are not by any means yet convinced of the soundness of this proposition Twenty eight States of this Union have found laws restricting the rates of interest to a figure as low or lower than the Oregon rate to be of sufficient virtue to be kept on their statute book Many of those States are much older than Oregon and their experience in such a matter is certainly entitled to some weight especially when we consider that among them are the great commercial commonwealths of New York Pennsylvania, Louisiana Maryland Virginia and others

During the three months ending June 10th the receipts of treasure at San Francisco through Wells Fargo & Co's Express amounted to $11 3[illegible]1,600 against $8 69[illegible],000 for the corresponding quarter last year The sources of the receipts were as follows

Northern and Southern mines	$ 9 96[illegible] 000
Northern coast route	478 600
Southern coast route	218 [illegible]
Mexico	71[illegible]
Total	$11 3[illegible] 600

The totals show a heavy increase in silver nevertheless the price has steadily improved in that market owing to the absorption of bullion in the coinage of trade dollars. The increase in the receipts of coin are chiefly due to the operations of the Carson mint.

The Wheat Trade

The probabilities are that we shall now have no more foreign bound vessels to load with wheat of the old crop and although most of the remaining surplus comparatively small will be worked off on coasters to the San Francisco market we can safely make up a summary of the trade for the past year so as to give it sufficient accuracy for all practical purposes. The harvest year began on the 1st of August 1873 since which time the exports from Oregon have been as given below all the vessels carrying coming to Portland except two the Vermont and Alignis which received their entire cargoes at Astoria. The shipments to Europe have been as follows

Month	No Vessels	Wheat ctls	Flour bbls	Value
August	2	44 826		$ 79 240
Sept	4	102 684		196 716
Oct	3	33 770	11 881	131 [illegible]

Jan	1[illegible]	201 527	26 [illegible]	691 059
Feb	4	64 [illegible]	4 998	1[illegible]9 312
March	6	114 613	4,464	223 060
April	2	39 407		68 6[illegible]
May	4	166 436	18 010	[illegible]16 007
June	1	1[illegible] 000		21 [illegible]
Totals	56	1,163,091	82 206	2 471 464

Shipments to San Francisco since August 1st 1873, of wheat and flour, have been as follows

Month	Wheat, ctls	Flour bbl	Value
August	898	8,460	$ 47 656
September	27 014	9,750	96,847
October	136 029	21,828	373 418
November	63 846	8 180	180 862
December	26 581	10 993	124 616
January	6 007	5 300	44 413
February	28 731	17 978	158 047
March	9 200	6 002	[illegible]1 292
April	13 628	8 638	69 995
May	96 093	2 312	171,270
June	8 874	9 982	69 099
Totals	416 901	109,168	$1,387 524

If we add to the above amounts about 1 500 centals of wheat, valued at $2,7[illegible]0, and 12 000 barrels of flour at $66,000 sent to other ports than those named, we shall have within a few centals of the actual exports of Oregon for the eleven months ending the 1st inst, to-wit 1,581 492 centals of wheat, and 203,374 barrels of flour equivalent altogether to 3 652,690 bushels of wheat and of the total value on shipboard here of $3 920 238

The surplus now in the State all told would perhaps amount to no more than [illegible] 000 tons or 166 000 bushels, so that with wastage allowed the yield last year over and above the needs for home consumption fell but little short of 4 000 000 bushels, while the crop this year is estimated at least 2[illegible] per cent greater which would give us a surplus of near [illegible] 000,000 in 1874

We are in receipt of Friedlander's Annual Circular concerning the wheat trade of the coast during the past year in which he says the California crop of 1873 was greatly underestimated, to the general derangement of business which resulted in heavy losses to both exporters and charterers Later in the season farmers who had refused $2 50 for their wheat were induced to ship to Liverpool in the hope of making a profit but the result has been disastrous

Turning from the past to the present and future, we have the promise of the finest wheat crop that California has ever produced The season has been everything that could be desired both for planting and growing and now that the harvest is at hand, the whole State appears a field of waving grain. How great the yield will be it is extremely difficult to calculate but a surplus for export of 700 000 tons seems certainly within the bounds of probability. This would give us a total yield of about 31 000 000 bushels Unfortunately, we cannot expect to realize very high prices for this crop the immense plant of wheat all over the world and the promise of abundant harvests throughout preclude that; but still the aggregate amount realized to the State will foot up many millions of dollars while the prolific yield of our soil will even with moderate prices, make the crop fairly remunerative to our farmers. New wheat is coming in very slowly, the harvest being somewhat late and present prices affording no particular inducement for farmers to go to extra expense to hurry forward their grain. The samples that have reached us so far have not been as clean as we would have liked to have seen them but we do not think they represent the general crop the character of which we have every confidence will be satisfactory New wheat commands $1 70 ₰ 100 lbs freights to Liverpool are £4 ₰ [illegible] lbs English limits 54 shillings cost and freight and insurance for prompt shipment which, with exchange at 49½d, means a stoppage of business until a change of some kind occurs

In reference to the unusually large export demand for flour the same authority adds

It would be gratifying if we could confirm the impression that prevails very generally here that this demand arose legitimately from the superior quality of our flour but such unfortunately was not the case The price of wheat was so high all through the season that it was with great difficulty orders were filled but flour was throughout relatively cheaper than wheat, and consequently could be used in many cases where wheat could not. France too which in ordinary years supplies England with large amounts of flour was all through the last year an importer instead of an exporter so that room was left for outside sources of supply For these reasons we can hardly look upon our trade with England as fairly established and indeed from the difficulties that have attended the distribution of our flour among consumers there we doubt if there will be much call for it during the coming season Still the knowledge that California furnishes a basis of supply in time of need has been widely diffused by the shipments of the past season and in that way good will have been done The shipments to Europe consisted entirely of very high grades

With respect to freights the Circular remarks that there were large engagements to arrive in the early part of the season at £1 to £1 [illegible]s but when in September wheat rose to $2 [illegible] freights receded to £[illegible] [illegible] for spot charters resulting in heavy losses to those who had previously chartered vessels to arrive without securing wheat to fill them before the advance There is now 180 000 tons en route to the port of San Francisco and much of it is chartered at [illegible] to £1 [illegible]

Miscellaneous.

At no time within the past two years have so few transactions in wheat been noticeable in this market as at the present.

The receipts of wool here are enormous for a country like Oregon and shipments by every outgoing steamer are heavy Prices are still maintained at 28@30c for best quality

It is reported that Messrs Simpson Bros of Coos Bay have now on the stocks and nearly ready for launching a 2 000 ton ship which they expect to complete by October next, when they will send her round to this port to load with grain for Liverpool She is said to be of handsome model and in all respects a first class vessel

The wheat exports from San Francisco for June embraced four full cargoes to England besides a mixed cargo of wheat and flour The last vessel in the month took a small quantity of new wheat, being the first this season

The coasting bark Rival in making her landing on Tuesday evening collided with the dock with such force as to carry away [illegible] and injure her foreriggings slightly

The steamer Wm Tabor recently plying between San Francisco and Victoria has gone on the docks at the former port to be recoppered

The tonnage known to be on the way to this coast on the 1st inst. aggregates 186,000 tons The number of vessels on the berth and on the way from Newcastle N S W is given at thirty five aggregating 2[illegible] tons of which twenty six are British and the remainder American vessels Twenty three are on the way from Liverpool with an aggregate tonnage of [illegible] of which number six are American and the remainder British exclusive of one [illegible] Twenty four have sailed from New York and six [illegible] the two new steamers of the Pacific Mail the City of [illegible] and City of [illegible] The sum total of tonnage on the way and loading from New York alone [illegible] tons

The war which grew into a war between the sugar refineries of San Francisco a few weeks ago has been settled and as a consequence rates for that article are stiffening up

The new wheat offered in the San Francisco market this season is said by buyers to be of a rather inferior quality and far from clean

Shipping Intelligence

The steamship John L Stephens which arrived from San Francisco at 11 o'clock last night with [illegible] tons of miscellaneous freight is receiving return cargo and will sail at 7 A M to-morrow

The bark Rival arrived at her berth last night with a fair freight list from San Francisco
